Summer Terrace

Where relaxation begins

On the next few pages, you will find our “Summer Terrace” collections, which are a result of working closely with our factories to offer refreshing designs of low maintenance conventional furniture.

The Romano tables have genuine Werzalit® tabletops from Germany, and are weather and stain resistant. For this reason, they are often found in cafes, bars and hotels because of their durability. They are on sturdy steel leg assemblies, and we have coupled them with our popular San Remo stacking chair which has weather-resistant wicker seat and back. Table legs and chair frames are black, and the Romano patio table shown below will accommodate a parasol.

Europa Leisure are proud to act as the UK Sales Office and Distributors for Nardi of Italy, a long established manufacturer of resin furniture of the highest quality. For the UK market we have selected a comprehensive selection of styles and colours.

Unlike most resin furniture producers, Nardi have the confidence in their products to recommend most of them for commercial use, and not just for the domestic market.

Non-stock products are available to order through your garden centre.

Many of the tables in our UK selection have "SuperTops." These are not merely transfers which can peel off; the printed foil is bonded into the resin during the moulded process. SuperTops will withstand more wear-and-tear than the plain versions.

Product care

RESISTANCE AGAINST WEATHER

Much care is taken during manufacture and finishing to ensure that every Europa Leisure product offers years of pleasure. However, as with everything, it is necessary to provide a little care and maintenance to ensure lasting satisfaction. We strongly recommend that all garden furniture is stored away at the end of the Summer. All furniture (not just ours) will give years more pleasure if protected from the worst ravages of the weather.

Our Mosaic, Stone and Marble tables and chairs are weather resistant, and designed for outdoor and indoor use. They must however be first dried, and then stored away in the winter, as we do not guarantee them as being frost-proof.

RESISTANCE TO STAINING

Natural Stone, including our Travertine Marbles, are porous, and will absorb liquids. Any spillages should be removed without delay, to avoid possibility of staining. Some liquids (lemon juice, tonic water, cola, red wine to name but a few,) will all leave stains or blemishes which can be difficult to remove. Our web-site gives further information on protective sealants and cleaners which are available.

NATURAL STONE & MOSAIC RANGES

Many of our tables are made from natural stone. Colours will vary, and no two tables will be alike; this is part of the charm of buying a product using natural materials rather than man-made. Natural stone does have slight pits and blemishes, and sometimes fissures which look like cracks. These are part and parcel of natural stone, and are sometimes filled with a resin during manufacture; such blemishes and colour variations are unavoidable, and do not constitute a fault.

Many of our tables (as described in the catalogue) have tops of natural riven stone. Therefore, please expect the surface to be "riven!" This adds to the natural beauty of the table, but if you are seeking a perfectly smooth and even surface, then please opt for one of our other styles.

"RESIN WEAVE WICKER"

Many of our ranges use "resin-weave wicker." This is a tough, resin-based weather-resistant woven material, and in some cases, it has variegated shading, which serves only to heighten the effect of being "the real thing!" The Wicker is easy to clean, using warm soapy water, rinsed off with plain water. Avoid damage by sharp objects. If the "tail" of the wicker should at any time come free, it can be secured with adhesive. Despite being resistant to the rain, the furniture should be stored away in Winter, as prolonged exposure to very cold conditions will result over time in the material becoming brittle, and breaking down.

"TEXTILENE"

Textilene fabric is ideal for garden furniture, as it shrugs off the rain, and is easy to clean with warm soapy water, well rinsed off. Care should be taken that it is not damaged accidentally by sharp objects.

"RESIN FURNITURE"

Our Nardi furniture is almost indestructible, is UV stabilised, and will withstand extreme temperature changes. Being so much lighter in weight than metal furniture, it should be protected in high winds to avoid being blown over. We recommend the use of Nardi Resin Cleaner for cleaning.

"PARASOLS"

These should not be used in breezy conditions, and should always be lowered when not in use, as a sudden gust could cause it, and the table too, to blow over. Although the fabric is shower-resistant, the life expectancy will be much greater if the parasol is allowed to dry and then stored out of the weather.

METAL COMPONENTS

Many of our ranges are partially constructed of steel or aluminium. Those living in coastal regions will be aware that sea spray and salt air play havoc with most metals, especially steel, and although our furniture is weather and rust resistant, we offer no guarantee against corrosion by sea air. If you live near the sea, you would be better advised to consider one of our aluminium or resin sets.

Steel will rust if the protective surface is damaged in any way. Our steel products undergo many cleaning, rust inhibiting and powder coating processes so that the product will look good for some time before repainting becomes necessary. It is however possible that minor damage to the powder-coat finish can occur during assembly, or, despite our superior packaging, it is even conceivable that slight chips can be caused during transit. To avoid rusting, any small chip marks should be touched-up with matching enamel paint. These minor blemishes are often unavoidable, and we do not consider products showing minor rust spots to be faulty. Our Consumer Services department will be happy to provide a small pot of touch-up paint.

HOME-ASSEMBLY

Many of our self-assembly furniture ranges use aluminium components and / or fixings. However, aluminium is a relatively 'soft' metal, and it is easy to strip threads, or snap bolts if over tightened. We recommend the use of a hand spanner for assembly, as opposed to a socket set.

Our Furniture Ranges are designed for domestic use, and we give no Warranty for Commercial or Catering use.

In the event of a problem, our policy is to supply a replacement component, not the entire product or suite. Our 'Consumer Services' department on 01722 742763 is at your disposal if you are in need of further advice. For more information, please visit our website, www.europaleisure.co.uk
